LEAD BOUNTY The delegation from Kootenay which went to Ottawa a few weeks ago has been successful and Canada is to have a refinery. This has been decided upon by the Dominion Government, who offer a bonus to a refinery to the extent of $500,000. The text of the resolution passed is as follows:

"Resolved, that it is expedient to provide as follows in order to encourage the refining of lead in Canada:

"That the Governor-in-Council may authorize the payment of the under-mentioned bounties on lead refined in Canada from material produced in Canadian smelters from Canadian ores:

"On every ton of lead so refined during 1902, $5; on every ton in 1903, $1; on every ton in 1904, $3; on every ton in 1905, $2; on every ton in 1906, $1.

"The bounties shall be payable half-yearly on the first days of July and January; the total sum payable not to exceed $100,000 in any year. If the sum at the rates per ton mentioned on lead refined during the half calendar year shall exceed $50,000, then and in such cases the bounty payable per ton shall be reduced as regards that half year to such rate per ton as shall make the amount of bounties payable in respect of such half year, not more than $50,000.

"If the sum paid for such bounty in any half year shall be less than $50,000, the unpaid balance being the difference between the sum so paid and $50,000 shall be carried to the credit of the bounty fund for the next succeeding half year, and may be paid out in such succeeding half year in addition to the $50,000 hereinbefore provided. All bounties cease on December 31st, 1906."

By the foregoing it is apparent that the erection of the refinery must be started at once and should be in working order by the end of the present year in order to secure the immediate benefit of the bonus.

The establishment of a Canadian refinery is the only permanent salvation of the lead mining industry in Kootenay and it may be said that the Dominion Government has done more, in the granting of this bonus, for Kootenay than they have ever done in the past, although had they decided to own and operate the refinery it would have been still better, and in time would prove a profit-producer as well. However, we have every reason to be thankful that the industry is to be fostered and that its importance has been recognized.

It means that lead mining will now be carried on without interruption and that our miners will feel that they can depend upon having a steady market for their product. Further, that the mine-owners will receive a higher price for their ore as there will be no duty to pay, which at present amounts to $12.50 per ton. This extra $12.50 will enable several low grade properties to resume operations.

It will assist materially in bringing new capital here as capitalists will realize that our government is prepared to foster the mining industry and will not allow it to be strangled by the American octopus.

It may be expected that a great many of the mines will at once proceed with development on a large scale and while they may not be able to ship in large quantities until the refinery is ready for business, they will be in a much better shape for shipping than ever before.

In the meantime, however, it may safely be predicted that the American trust will at once seek to purchase Canadian ore and even offer lower rates than heretofore in order to secure contracts for a term of years.

A common error indulged in by the prospector, the expert miner and the scientific mining expert, is that in their own experiences and in observations of great mines they create an ideal mine to which they expect all other mines to conform. If the prospector has made a lucky strike in a contact vein, then ever afterwards he is prone to overlook promising prospects in other formations, oft-times escaping a fortune by expecting nature to conform to his idea of what a mine should be.

Mining is today attracting more attention than any other industry if a person can judge by the general interest of the public. The large industrial combinations of Morgan and his associates are of direct interest to comparatively few, and for everyone holding interests in any manufacturing concern fifty can be found who hold a large or small interest in some mining enterprise.—Northwest Mining News.
